NAVAJO INDIANS ARE NOT STARVING

Sensational Reports Concerning Conditions in Arizona Have Been Greatly Exaggerated.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Officials of the department of the Interior are most emphatic in their denial of the reported starving condition of the Navajo Indians in Arizona. Secretary Hitchcock said today there was absolutely no truth in the accounts published, stating that the Navajo tribe was rapidly approaching a period of starvation, and unless substantial aid was rendered by the government distress and loss of life would result. He explained that there had been a drought in the country occupied by the Navajos for the last three years, and that Indians and white settlers were suffering heavy losses and much inconvenience as a result, but in no manner were the people nearing starvation.

Reports Untrue
Commissioner Jones of the Indian Affairs bureau, who recently visited the Navajo territory with Representative Chapman of New York, says the conditions as shown by the reports circulated, are greatly exaggerated and every effort is being made by the department to relieve what suffering there was, with the result that the conditions among the Indians were in a much better state than there were two weeks ago.

No Starvation
In response to a request from Senator Rawlins for aid for the Indians in Utah, he had telegraphed the agents of the bureau in that territory to report on the situation and had just received replies assuring him that no state of distress existed.

RUSSIA WILL HAVE GREAT GRAIN CROP

Official Reports Made to the United States Indicate an Unusually Large Yield.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Russia, like the United States, will produce extremely large crops of cereals this year. Consul Herman in a report to the state department says: "The year 1902 has been an extremely satisfactory one in Russia so far as the crops are concerned. With the single exception of flax seed, which is almost an absolute failure, the crops of the present season are the largest that this country has produced for the last ten years. The yield of barley and rye has been much above the average in quantity, though the quality of the barley is not so good."

Wheat Market Strong
"The wheat harvest is exceptionally large, and as a rule the quality is also good. Oats yielded largely in almost all localities and I am informed that the weight is heavy. Corn is reported to be suffering from some sort of insect, but on the whole the crop in Bessarabia will, I believe, be an average one. Sugar beets are progressing favorably and have thus far escaped the many enemies which attack this vegetable. As to flax seed, it is to be feared that Russia will be obliged to import it from Argentina. The above does not apply to nor include Siberia. Reports from that section are unfavorable."

GOVERNMENT DOCK BADLY INJURED

Consul Bragg Notifies State Department of Damage to the Havana Dock.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—United States Consul General Bragg of Havana has cabled the State Department confirmation of the press reports of the accident to the big floating steel dry dock there, which was recently purchased by the United States from Spain.

He says that the dock broke near the center while the end sections were being suspended. Naval officials are not prepared to give any estimate of the damage to the dry dock without more detailed information concerning the injury. The assumption would be that if the dock broke literally in two it would have sunk.

DUKE BORIS ENDS VISIT TO AMERICA

Sails for France, and Is Delighted with His Reception in the United States.

New York, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Grand Duke Boris of Russia sailed yesterday on La Lorraine for Paris. His secretary said the duke was delighted at the reception which he met with in this country and intended to return at some future date. His brother, the Grand Duke Cyril, will also visit this country soon. Boris escaped interviewers by boarding the vessels at quarantine from the Cheroke, Cornelius Vanderbilt's steam yacht. Alexander de Graeves, the grand duke's secretary, entered details of many of the newspaper stories of his chief. He said: "The bringing in of Miss May Goelet's name in connection with the grand duke was a shameful thing. Miss Goelet is nothing more than a good friend of the grand duke. The statement that the grand duke left the dinner table at Mrs. Fish's house because some one else was served before him is another lie. The conception of the rules of etiquette of these newspaper men is indeed deplorable if they imagine that his highness would allow himself to be served before women. Even the Czar of Russia himself would not permit such an action when he was present at a dinner in the palace."

FISH'S REMAINS LAID AT REST

Are Placed Beside Those of His Soldier Son, at Garrison on the Hudson.

New York, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Nicholas Fish's body was placed this afternoon in the family burial plot at Garrison-on-the-Hudson, by the side of that of his only son, whose life was sacrificed in the first land battle of the Spanish-American war at Las Guasimas. The funeral was held from St. Mark's church. In the line following the body were the widow, leaning on the arm of Hamilton Fish, formerly speaker of the assembly; Stuyvesant Fish and Miss Marion Fish, Dr. Stuyvesant Fish Morris and his daughters, Hamilton Benjamin Fish, with his two daughters and two sons, and General and Mrs. Lloyd Brice.

SPANIARDS STILL ARE REMEMBERED

Tugboat Kuper Ran Into a Mine Laid in Harbor from Spanish War.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)
New York, Sept. 19.—Although more than four years have passed since peace was declared between the United States and Spain, today only brought forth the fact that the great mines planted in New York bay to wreck attacking Dons were responsible for the death of three American citizens. A search by divers of the tugboat Kuper, which was sunk on August 14 last, revealed that she was not the victim of a boiler explosion, as was generally supposed, but that she had been blown to pieces by a mine.

GIRL'S BODY FOUND IN NEW YORK CANAL

Mystery Surrounds the Murder of a Handsome Young Woman Whose Identity Is Unknown.

New York, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The body of a murdered girl was discovered yesterday afternoon in the Morris canal, midway between Jersey City and Newark. A strap such as is used for hitching horses to which was attached a twenty-pound weight, was fastened around her waist. A rope twelve feet long was tied around the left leg and waist. The girl's skull had been fractured and there was a deep wound in the abdomen five inches long. The crime had not been committed more than forty-eight hours prior to the finding of the body.

Discovered Body
The canal runs parallel to and close to the plank road between the Hackensack and the Passaic rivers. John F. Kellar of Newark, driver of an express wagon, saw the body and drove rapidly to Jersey City to report the discovery. The Jersey City police informed the officer of Kearney township, in whose jurisdiction the discovery was made. Prosecutor Erwin is conducting the inquiry.

The victim was a small, plump, and good looking blonde, probably a Scandinavian. She was 20 years old, 5 feet, 2 inches in height, and weighed 120 pounds. Her upper teeth were gone. The presumption is that the woman was murdered, divested of her clothing and carried in a wagon to the spot and thrown into the canal at high water on Tuesday or Wednesday night.

Dr. Charles B. Converse examined the marks on the body and was convinced that the girl was a victim of foul play. He found a bruise on the right side near the temple.

LOVE FOR SON DEFEATS DOWIE

Manager Held, Chief of Dowle's General Store in Zion, Leaves Church.

(Special To The Gazette.)
Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 19.—Another important defection from Dowle's ranks at Zion City has just taken place in the person of Deacon A. C. Held, who has been manager of Zion City general stores since their inception. Today the family left for Beloit, Wis., and ceased all connection with Zion affairs.

It is said that trouble over Helen Alvin is at the bottom of the affair. All of the family except Alvin embraced Dowleism and were dutiful followers, but he remained a scoffer.

Played Cards
The final trouble came Tuesday, when young Held went on an excursion to Madison, Wis. There were some Dowleites on the train who saw him in the smoker playing cards. They remonstrated but got a curt reply. His father was again spoken to and as it had come to a point of casting off his son or Dowleism he choose the latter and left Zion City. He may locate at Elgin or DeKalb, Ill.

PRIEST HOLDS PROOF OF TITLE TO ALASKA

Documents Said to Demonstrate Right of United States to Hold Land Held by British.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 19.—Father Anatoly of the Greek Catholic church of this city admitted that he had documents tending to confirm the American claims to the rich gold bearing territory in the far northwest which has been in dispute between the United States and Great Britain for years. The papers consist of reprints and surveys authorized by the Russian government when Alaska was in the czar's domain.

Father Anatoly was sent to Alaska by the Greek church in 1897 and he remained four years. Among the papers he secured is a copy of the Alaskan treaty, in the English and Russian languages. This shows the United States are entitled to a ten-mile strip of land now held by Britain. This land was once ceded to Britain for ten years in settlement of a trading company dispute and was never given back to the czar. It is near the Stikine river.

F. G. Borden of Milton was in the city today on business connected with the leaf tobacco trade.

GREAT BRITAIN JOINS IN PROTEST FOLLOWS IN PATH OF AMERICA

Requests Signatory Nations to Investigate Conditions of Jews in Roumania. Especially Regarding General Treatment in That Country.

Berlin, Sept. 19.—The action of Secretary Hay in behalf of the Jews of Roumania has met with general approval on the continent, and is expected to bring beneficial results. It is held by some that the move is the more humane because the United States is considered fully equal to the task of excluding any immigrants it may object to.

The German foreign office has received Secretary Hay's note and also received one from the British government. Both notes invite some action on the part of the signatories of the treaty of Berlin of 1878 regarding Roumania's treatment of Jews. The British note is shorter than that of the United States on the same subject, but it pursues the same end. It is assumed here that Great Britain knew of the United States' step beforehand and acted in support thereof.

Awaits Roumania's Reply.
The imperial government will await the reply of Roumania before answering the note of Mr. Hay.

The United States' action is regarded as being quite within her rights, in seeking the assistance of the signatories in preventing an influx of indigent immigrants, which is recognized as a substantial grievance. These two notes will result in an interchange of views between the powers as to what action is feasible. In the meantime it is expected that Roumania will take cognizance of the United States' protest and defend her case upon her own initiative before the signatories.

Strong Moral Effect.
The press, knowing nothing of the British note, seems to consider the United States' action as simply chivalrous and as not likely to result in practical measures.

The Vossische Zeitung says that while thinking Germany will do nothing, it still believes the United States' note cannot fail to have a strong moral effect, adding:

"That, perhaps, is its purpose. The United States does not need the protection of Europe against pauper immigration, as it already has legislation sufficient to keep out undesirable immigrants. What the United States aimed at, therefore, was an expression of its feelings of humanity, which, notwithstanding its novelty, is an agreeable thing to see."

Appreciates Supporters.

The Post says: "The Roumanian Jews have mighty protectors. It is not long ago that certain financial circles threatened to depress Roumanian securities unless the government was more pliant toward the Jews. This failed and now the Jews have the support of the United States. We do not know what attitude the signers of the Berlin treaty will take toward the note, but we know that all talk of the persecution of the Jews comes from incorrect suppositions as to what the new law is."

The Post also asserts that this applies equally to all sects and races.

Doubts Its Effectiveness.

The Boersche Courier says: "The business of the Roumanian government now is to reply to the accusations and bring proof that in its treatment of the Jews it acts within the provisions of the Berlin treaty and will continue to do so."

The Neuesten Nachrichten doubts whether the United States note is based on accurate information or whether it will lead to any tangible result.

WHAT MRS. HAYTER SUFFERED.

"I had been sick for more than a year with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Lucy Hayter, of Jackson, Jack Co., Texas. "Several different doctors treated me, but none did me any good. My mother begged me to try Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

MR. HENDERSON OF IOWA.

When a man becomes larger than his constituency it is time for him to retire. This appears to be the case with Congressman Henderson of Iowa. After being renominated in a snap convention early in May, and when within six weeks of election, the fact dawned upon him that he is not in accord with the republican sentiment in his district, and he withdraws from the race.

Mr. Henderson has been in congress for twenty years but it has not added materially to his stature. Seniority of service, rather than peculiar ability, made him speaker of the house. He was a larger man on the floor than he was in the chair, and attempting to follow in the footsteps of his predecessor, Thos. D. Reed, has accomplished his political undoing. Mr. Reed won the title of a czar and possessed the ability to wear it. Mr. Henderson adopted the title, but it never contributed anything to him as a man, or presiding officer.

He made himself so obnoxious that his successor was already selected. It is more than probable that his home constituency had long been annoyed by his erratic and dictatorial methods, and his retirement from public life will not be regarded as a calamity.

Iowa is a progressive state. It is republican by a safe majority. The state, like Kansas, has long been noted for reform measures and state prohibition, and other impractical measures, have been tested and abandoned. Corporations have come in for a full share of attention and railroads have been regarded as pernicious. The republican party has absorbed various elements of discontent, but with the absorption, it has inherited the spirit of reform, and today the state leads the procession in demanding a revision of the tariff.

Mr. Henderson fails to appreciate conditions, and so finds himself out of harmony with his party.

The state of Iowa may be premature in its demands but the question of reciprocity and tariff revision is a vital question that the republican party is called upon to solve.

Congressman Frost of Connecticut, a heavy manufacturer, recently created a sensation in the New England states, by advocating the same doctrine advanced by Iowa republicans.

Public sentiment generally endorses the opinion, that trusts and combines are fostered and encouraged by high tariff. While there are two sides to the question, and careful and wise legislation is demanded the public falls to recognize but one side, and that is full or real or imaginary wrongs.

It is currently reported that the president, after consulting with his advisors, has decided to devote his energies to the solving of the trust problem, and let the tariff question alone.

Iowa proposes to look after the tariff using the argument that a revision of duties will regulate a trust.

Speaker Henderson appears to be out of accord with the party in his own state, as well as with national leaders. He has evidently accomplished his public mission, and his retirement will not cause much of a commotion.

THE FUEL QUESTION.

The question of fuel is so intensely practical, that it touches every home and the pocketbook of every householder. No coal, at any price, and winter not far away, is a new experience. It is one of the emergencies that calls for prompt and vigorous measures, and while more or less inconvenience will result it is safe to assume the problem will be solved and people will keep warm during the winter months.

Anthracite coal is regarded as the cleanest and best fuel in use, and yet through Illinois, Iowa and the bituminous coal districts, the people find no trouble in keeping warm with soft coal. While it may be dirty, and the housewife would probably swear if she knew how, yet it is a great improvement on no fuel, and much of it will be used in new localities the coming winter.

Wood has always been regarded as a clean and wholesome fuel, and the people of Wisconsin are fortunate in having a good supply. There is enough dead timber in Rock county going to waste, to supply the county with fuel for two years at least. It can be utilized with but little expense in ranges and furnaces. The suggestion of Mr. Richardson contained in yesterday's Gazette, is a good one.

The anthracite coal strike may be settled in a week or it may drag along for months. In any event, the supply of hard coal will be short for some time to come, but with plenty of wood and soft coal in sight, there is no occasion for alarm.

ALL FOR SPOONER.

The reports coming in from all parts of the state, indicate that Spooner men are being nominated by republican conventions, and yet it is not difficult to read between the lines, in many of the resolutions adopted, the same blind idolatry for La Follette which characterized the pre-convention campaign.

It will be remembered that Spooner had no opposition then, and the statement was frequently made, and passed current, in many localities, that the governor was not opposed to the senator, and would heartily endorse his reelection.

Papers like the Oshkosh Northwestern and Madison Journal became infatuated with the idea, and talked about a Spooner-LaFollette love feast. But the convention told the story, and when the mask was removed it was discovered that the governor owned the bakery. After every effort was exhausted to drive Spooner and his loyal supporters out of the party, and after it was discovered that the Spooner sentiment was the prevailing sentiment through out the state, a flag of truce, under the guise of hypocrisy, was sent out and every La Follette man became a Spooner shouter.

It is safe to assume that every man who is elected to the legislature in a hypnotized condition will be a Spooner man of the convention type. The people of the state will know more about Senator Spooner's chances when the crowd is lined up. It was easy to shout for Spooner before the convention and it is just as easy now, but talk is a cheap commodity. It was meaningless in July and it will bear watching in November.

PASTOR AT FOOTVILLE.

Rev. H. L. Williams of the East Maine Conference has been appointed as pastor of the M. E. church at Footville. Mr. Williams is a graduate of Lawrence University, as well as the Boston Theological school, and is well equipped for his work. The Footville church is fortunate in securing his services. He will enter upon his work next Sunday.

They do say that Uncle Ike is getting worried over the great strikes that Rose is making and the fallacies of democracy and has telegraphed to Bob to come home and look after his fence or the democratic donkey will have eaten up all the choice tin cans he has been saving to pack his money in.

A New York telegram reports that Senator Spooner says he has no worry over his political future. Of course he hasn't. It is the other fellows who are doing the worrying now. Uncle Ike may be asking himself if he did not buy another gold brick this time before long.

Buckstaff, Stout and Harvey are to be placed on trial by the governor's admirers. The verdict of popular opinion has already been rendered in the case, and the men are commended for courage and loyalty to duty. It is too late in the season to whitewash successfully.

After all the talk about Schley the old sea dog has got his land legs on and is enjoying himself way inland where he cannot hear what the sea waves have to say about the battle of Santiago.

Chicago has Luke Wheeler in the toils of the law and still that great fireworks display is embryo. Nevertheless the "bunco" man still takes unwary strangers down to the lake front to see the explosion.

President Roosevelt will be a busy man all the rest of his life if he starts in to return all the calls that have been paid him during the past summer.

Poor Pierpont Morgan is not the greatest man in the world after all. He could not organize Europe and he cannot stop the coal strike. In fact, there are some things that even money cannot do.

Perhaps Editor Watterson is right in what he says of the 400. There is certainly an element of doubt in the question that he knows what he is talking about.

Chicago did not have a thing but a session of dress makers from all over the country pay a visit to its beautiful, smoky, dirty, vile streets last week.

Let golf take a background. Forget your primer of the noble Scotch game and take up the dictionary of Lord Football.

Peary is back. He did not reach the Pole, he only got as far as latitude 84.17 degrees. The highest point yet reached by any explorer on this continent.

Citizen David Rose of Milwaukee, is still making speeches, meanwhile "Brother Bob" is rubbing him down and keeping him in training for the fray.

Now that the Vanderbilts have left Newport for good and all, have taken their Lares and Penates away what will the swell Rhode Island city do?

It must be tiresome for Chicago people to read day after day that all the water they drink is had very bad and beer trust formed too.

Tom Johnson and his one ring circus is still doing business in Ohio although the lateness of the season is bad for the gate receipts.

General Corbin denies that he criticized the German army in its late maneuvers. Poor Corbin has the Miles habit too.

Uncle Ike ought to feel thankful to the book companies to know that he was not the only Reuben to buy green goods.

Poor old "Me too Platt" is no prophet. You remember what he said about coal strikes being all settled in a week?

It makes one think of the high price of coal to see a man in a straw hat these days. And coal is a nightmare.

Baldwin has failed as a discoverer of the North Pole. Why not try him down south for a while?

When the striker is placed in the new City Hall clock, the illuminated dial will be out of a job.

Coal is being imported from England. Welsh miners are wise enough to keep on working.

The prohibition party is entitled to zeal to say the least.

Mr. Richardson has pronounced views on currency reform.

MILWAUKEE FIRM WAS DELAYED

Hence, Thus Far There Is No Lighting Apparatus in the New City Hall.

Owing to the delay on the part of the firm in Milwaukee who have the contract for furnishing the lighting fixtures for the new city hall, they will not be here before the last of next week. Chairman Lowell, of the building committee is much disappointed over the delay, but will have some temporary fixtures placed in the council chamber so that the meeting can be held next Tuesday night as fixed at the last meeting of the council.

Henry Carpenter went to Madison today to get his rooms in shape for the opening of the fall term of the state university.

CLERK STARR MAKES REPORT

STOCK DOES NOT INCREASE IN NUMBERS MUCH.

EFFECTS OF WEATHER NOTED

Personal and Realty Have Fallen Off
Much During the Past Year.

No startling revelations have been brought out by the 1902 Abstract of Assessment. The report has been nearly completed by County Clerk F. P. Starr and parts are already in the hands of the printer. The figures in general follow about the same lines as those of the preceding year and while there are marked increases in certain cases, there are corresponding decreases so that no great significance may be attached to the variation.

Nearly the Same
This fact is evidenced by the table which gives the number of horses, cattle, sheep, swine, etc., owned in the county. The number of horses has decreased from 15,793 to 15,623 while the number of cattle has increased from 49,981 to 54,820 and so on alternately along the list. The average values given in the same table have uniformly decreased. For example the average value of horses has dropped from $53.34 to $51.72 and of cattle from $20.97 to $17.94.

Effects of Weather
The table of farm products and of the number of acres under cultivation gives the statistics for 1901 as compared with those of 1900 in the 1901 abstract. The effect of the drought is being observed on certain crops such as apples which decreased from 14,433 bushels to 140, oats from 1,691,664 to 1,014,997 and tobacco from 10,065,250 to 5,881,569. On the other hand the number of bushels of wheat gained slightly from 9,785 to 11,427. The decreasing figures, however, are the rule. Butter, which appears in the same table seems to have been manufactured in greater quantities. The 1900 output was 2,625,442 pounds while in 1901 it was 3,479,552 pounds.

Personal and Realty
In the exhibit of personal and realty there is in general a slight falling off in value but an increase in quantity. Rock county residents now own 1,962 watches against 1,908 in 1901, but the value of the watches has dropped from $24,742 to $24,550, a variation of only a couple of hundred dollars and the alteration under the other heads is almost as inappreciable. The number of bicycles is an exception. The total has fallen from 701 to 455 and the value from $9,415 to $2,794.

WORK IS BEGUN ON NEW POST OFFICE

Force of Men Are Excavating and Filling in Old Wells and Cisterns.

The excavating for the foundation to the new postoffice began in earnest this morning. A large force of men and several teams are at work plowing up the ground and hauling away the rubbish.

An old well on the lot was filled up and the water in it gushed out at the top of the hole making a good sized puddle. There are also two large cisterns on the place which are about half full of water that will have to be filled in before the foundation can be started.

Yeager & Son, the contractors, will keep things hustling from now on.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS.

Lays Out Grounds: Contractor Yeager was engaged today in laying out the ground to be excavated for the foundation of the new postoffice building. As soon as the lines are laid out the excavating will be started and rushed along to completion.

Burned His Face: C. P. Beers is confined to his home as the result of a serious accident which happened last week. He was lighting an oil heater when the flames leaped out burning off his mustache, eyebrows and eyelashes.

Old Clothing Needed: Many people in this city are in destitute circumstances and City Missionary Mary Kimball requests more fortunate people, who can spare clothing, bedding, mattresses or furniture of any kind especially bedsteads, to send them to the Mary Kimball Mission, 106 South Jackson street. If they cannot be sent please notify the city missionary and they will be called for.

Fully 150 couples were present and the hall was filled to overflowing, but all had a splendid time. Smith's orchestra furnished the music which was up to the usual standard of excellence furnished by that organization. The committee of arrangements were Mesdames Edward Kelly, William Flarity and Edward Donahoe. Mennens' Borated Talcum Powder, 15c. The Fair.

Interview Merchants Who Think They Have Their Hands Full at Present.

P. A. Marsh of Chicago in company with T. H. Toomey of New York and E. S. Miller of Chicago were in the city yesterday to see what chance there was of putting up a macaroni factory in this city.

Mr. Toomey and Mr. Miller are both interested in the manufacture of macaroni and think that Janesville would be a good place for the location of a factory. Their idea was to build a large factory and operate it on a high scale.

Large Factory
A factory such as they had in view would employ about two hundred and fifty hands about half of them being girls. While in the city they visited a number of the business men and capitalists and talked with them about what they had in view.

Little Encouragement
Just at the present time with so many new industries in view that have been given bonuses they received very little encouragement from the business men who felt that they had all on hand at present that they could handle.

Want Stock
What they wished was to get in the neighborhood of one hundred thousand dollars in stock subscribed in this city before going on with the plant. Their figures were pretty high for Janesville and there is but little hope of their locating here.

DEN IS DEDICATED WITH LOTS OF FUN

O. E. Smith and W. J. Baumann
Give Friends an Evening of Novel Pleasure.

For a real jolly time by a crowd of jolly people the dedication of the "den" belonging to Otto E. Smith and William J. Baumann, held last evening, could hardly be discounted. For months the two gentlemen have been making the most elaborate plans for their den and the subject has become a familiar one to their friends.

Last evening a small company of ladies and gentlemen responded to an invitation to spend the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Smith, 360 South Jackson street, and they were completely surprised when they were ushered to the barn between the Smith and Baumann homes and introduced into the den itself. The barn had been transformed by an elaborate use of furniture, mostly in odd pieces. On the walls were hung sketches of the different guests, whose truth to life was appreciated by every one but the originals.

Plenty of Fun
Practical jokes were the order of the evening. Besides those on the walls, at the expense of the guests, there were several which were not so plain to view at first glance. An elegant upholstered sofa attempted to sit on it, chairs went to pieces under laughing victims, or disappeared through trap doors. The hosts were very indulgent over the destruction of their elegant furniture.

Museum of Mysteries
Innocent looking holes in the wall attracted curious attention and those who sought to satisfy that curiosity were treated to a shower bath. In fact the den proved to be a veritable museum of mysteries, and there was "plenty doing" every minute until the good-nights were said. A German lunch in keeping with the spirit of the occasion, was heartily enjoyed by the members of the merry company.

RAILWAY COMPANY SUED BY SIDE SHOW

Mirror Used in Statue Coming to Life Exhibition, Broken in Transit.

The cage of Darnaby and North-Western railroad was on trial this morning in the Municipal Court. Darnaby and Collins were the owners of the statue coming to life that exhibited on the vacant lot in the rear of the Y. M. C. A. building a short time before the Elks' carnival.

The Mirror
A necessary adjunct to the success of the show is a large mirror which reflects the statue and makes it appear as standing in the opening between the curtains. This large mirror was shipped over the North-Western from this city and was broken while in transit.

Want Damages
Darnaby & Collins had to purchase a new mirror and tried to get a settlement out of the North-Western for the value of the mirror and the damage to their performances during the time they were getting a new one. This they were unable to do so sued the company.

Secure Verdict
The case came up for trial this morning and resulted in a victory for the plaintiffs, in the sum of $202.50 damages and $12.85 costs. Jesse Earle appeared for the plaintiffs and R. R. Rucker for the defense. The railroad company will probably make an appeal to a higher court.

Make Creditable Exhibits
This fall the Wisconsin Carriage Co. have made several creditable vehicle exhibits at county fairs throughout the state including the state fair at Milwaukee. This week Messrs. Fish and Vandewater are at Elkhorn carrying away honors with an exhibit that has received no end of praise.

The New Baby.

(From the Kansas Farmer.)
Yes, I've got a little brother,
Never asked to have him, nuther,
But he's here.

They just went away and bought him,
And, last week the doctor brought him,
Weren't that queer?

When I heard the news from Molly,
Why, at first I thought 'twas jolly,
'Cause you see,

I s'posed I could go and get him,
And then mamma, course, would let him
Play with me.

But when I had once looked at him,
'Why,' I says, 'Great snakes, is that him?'
Just that mite!"

They said "Yes," and "Ain't he cunnin'?"
And I thought they must be funnin'—
He's a sight!

He's so small, it's just amazin',
And you'd think that he was blazin',
He's so red.

And his nose is like a berry,
And he's bald as Uncle Jerry
On his head.

Why, he isn't worth a brick,
All he does is cry and kick,
He can't stop.

Won't sit up, you can't arrange him—
I don't see why pa don't change him
At the shop.

Now, we've got to dress and feed him,
And we really didn't need him
More'n a frog.

Why'd they buy a baby brother
When they know I'd good deal ruther

The Mystic Maid of Mars.
By E. Francis Moran.
Tune, "My Granie's Only Duck."

I.
My Granie had one duck,
'Twas stolen by some tars,
And then into this tune she struck
"The Mystic Maid of Mars."

II.
She haunts my thoughts, she haunts my dreams
About the living stars,
With her images my fancy teems—
"The Mystic Maid of Mars."

III.
Far in the vast, unfathomed skies,
Free from this poor earth's jars
My fancy ever to her flies—
"The Mystic Maid of Mars."

IV.
From yonder orb so red above
Through night's silver-laced bars
She looks at me with eyes of love—
"The Mystic Maid of Mars."

V.
And when my brief race has been run;
Drawn in supernatural pershance, I'll ride beyond the sun
To the Mystic Maid of Mars.

VI.
Her eyes have pierced thro' my heart
With wound that leaves no scars,
'Tis an endless grief to live apart
From the Mystic Maid of Mars.

VII.
How fair, how wondrous fair she is,
More radiant than crystal's spars,
Possessing her were greatest bliss—
"The Mystic Maid of Mars."

VIII.
Imagination's only true,
Cursed be particulars,
No one can ever say he knew
"The Mystic Maid of Mars."

IX.
Some day I'll search for golden fleece
With supernatural tars
And find, more fair than Helen of Greece—
"The Mystic Maid of Mars."

Epilepsy

weakens the body and degrades the mind. It saps the nervous strength that is the source of all health, and perverts the functions of every organ. Because of its stubborn nature, it is often called incurable. This is not true. There is one medicine that never fails to check the nervous spasms and give new strength to the entire system.

"Our baby boy had epileptic spasms and the physicians were unable to do anything to help him. We heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine, and from the time he took the first dose he never had another attack." Mrs. J. PRAXIN, 459 N. Meridian Ave., Anderson, Ind.

FIRE ALARM BELL RANG BY MISTAKE

Men at Work Repairing Telephone Line, Break a Fire Alarm Wire.

Wisconsin Telephone linemen at work on North Main street this morning broke one of the fire alarm wires and in trying to repair it sent in an alarm. The bell tapped 421 which is the box at the corner of Highland avenue and Chatham street and the department prepared for a long run. As it only struck the number once the department did not turn out although the boys were ready to go. The fire patrol turned out and went as far as the West Side station.

After the first alarm Chief Engineer Klein cut out the big bell so that it would not strike while the line was being repaired. There were a number of taps on the big gongs in the engine houses before the line was fixed.

Small Crowd: Not much of a crowd of Janesville people took advantage of the special train and cut rates to the Elkhorn fair this morning. Only about seventy people went from here and accompanied the Imperial band on its trip. The fair so far has been a success and the horse races of the highest order.

A. J. Van Auler of Beloit was a business visitor to this city today.
